During the epidemic of flux in this county last summer I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand.
People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the Remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the last ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of cholera and flux, than any other medicine I have ever handled.—J. H. BENHAM, Druggist, Goldsboro, P. O., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will testify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this Remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by C. W. Honaker, Jr., & Co.

Journalism is at a fever heat in Mt. Sterling. The Gazette will break out with a daily edition Sept. 1st. It was a good experiment, even if it fails, but we hope the Gazette will make a success of it.

Editor Henry T. Duncan, Jr., of the Press, and James Wilson, druggist, of the firm of Wilson & Frazer, fought at Lexington, July 27th.
No damage beyond a black eye for Wilson and a few blows from bottles thrown for Duncan.

J. W. Williger, of Fleming, who is operating a threshing in the Hamilton neighborhood, on Flat Creek, passed through town Saturday on his way home to spend Sunday with his family. He reports wheat averaging about 20 bushels per acre.

Monday's primary was very quiet, and only a light vote was polled. The candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney each received 150 votes in this precinct. The vote all over the county was light, there being no opposing candidates.

C. W. Honaker, Jr., formerly of this place, but recently of Oklahoma, will be here till Sept. 15th, when he will return to Oklahoma to locate for life. He says he would rather live here than elsewhere, but having business in O., he will return.

The news comes from the four points of the compass that C. R.
Brooks is gathering strength as the days go by and his nomination for Congress by the Democrats seems to be assured. His nomination would be but the just recognition of his ability and claims for the place at the hands of the Democrats of this district.—Sentinel.

It didn't seem to be a premeditated affair, but a large party of Mason county free-white-and-twenty-one sight seen in Cincinnati last Saturday were caught up with and threwed in detail by Cincinnati toughs. It is something of a coincidence that three separate parties were walloped, as well as a number of individuals. Is the Old Commonwealth to be dragged in the mire of ignominy in this way?

John Ferguson while attending the show here Monday night, accidentally shot himself about two inches above the left knee, the ball ranging downward and lodged against the knee-cap.

Soon after the shooting, he was taken to his home near Old Virginia of this county, and Dr. Gudge was called to examine the wound.
The wound was probed, and the ball was not yet taken out.

The accident is very dangerous and is the result of carrying in his pocket a thirty-eight caliber revolver which was cocked.

This way, Please!

Philips & Jones, at Wyoming this county, are furnishing the sensation of the day in the merchandising line. Now, mark you, it is not mere advertising humbug. They are actually selling the very best quality of everything sold in a store at prices so low that many will say it is impossible. Here is the way they can afford to do it. They are located in a small town without any high rents, high taxes or expensive clerk-hire to pay. They do the bulk of the work themselves, and their expenses are reduced to a minimum.
They have the capital, and buy their goods at headquarters in sufficient quantities to get bottom prices. Then they say: "We will make a bold stroke of business policy and get a small per cent. profit on a vast quantity of goods. If we can sell $50,000 worth of goods at a profit of 10 per cent., we have $5,000 to divide between us." Nearly every merchant in this section has had "Toughy" thrown up to him. Now "Toughy" is a gentleman and a scholar, and Phillips & Jones have entered into an honorable rivalry with "Toughy." They will give "Toughy" cards and spades and beat him. Just go and see them once. Instead of a jumble of odds and ends, chips and whetstones, you will find a display, worthy of a city, of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Groceries, Hardware, Saddles, Gearing, Implement, and almost everything else. Their Drug department is complete, and prescriptions are filled by a regular, graduated physician. As a sample of how they sell goods, note this: A buck's Coffee, 20c per lb.; Granulated Sugar, 5c; 6 lb. Good Coffee for $7. It will actually pay everybody in Bath and adjoining counties to go and trade with them.

DEATHS.
Did at his home in Bath county, near Shuburn, on the 28th of July, Jefferson Vice, in his seventy-ninth year. The deceased was born and lived all his life in this county, and was a highly respected citizen.

Little Lillie, infant daughter of Jas. and Annie E. Flora, died July 24th, aged one year and six months.
The Master has said: "Suffer little children to come unto me." Little Lillie has answered the call, and has gone to join the angels—peaceful evermore. Lovingly and tenderly we laid her down to rest in her little white coffin. Weep not, father and mother. Jesus will take care of her happy spirit until we all meet again in heaven.

Empty the house her presence Made so bright a part;
Empty her crib, her clothes, her chair,
But empty of all, her mother's heart.

Col. W. W. Bruce, one of the wealthiest men in Lexington, will be sent to a sanitarium for alcoholism.

Frank Brown, of Company B, State Militia, was court-martialed and dishonorably discharged at Princeton for stealing a pistol from one of his comrades last week.

On Monday, Judge Young appointed J. J. Nesbitt, of Owingsville, Chas. Brown, of Sharpsburg, and Thomas C. Ragland, of White Sulphur, as Commissioners to divide the County into five magisterial districts.

Mr. Ben Gaitskill and bride, of Girard, Kansas, visited Esq. James B. Hughes' family from Tuesday to Saturday. Mr. Gaitskill is a nephew of Mrs. Hughes, and went to Kansas from Montgomery county some years ago. He is County Attorney for his county in Kansas.

Speaking of ratty old bands, there was no music domestic on Henry Saxton's band that played for the hop last Friday night. Poor music has a particular use in that it makes good music all the more pleasing by contrast. Saxton's band furnishes a superior quality of music.

Dr. Sarah Dudley.
Dr. Dudley's lecture at the Court House Monday afternoon was well attended by the ladies of the town, and was well received. A woman-doctor has heretofore been regarded as an innovation, but it is no longer so, since the number of female practitioners is increasing yearly.
Indeed, a number of our best medical colleagues have a special department for ladies who desire to enter the medical profession, and there is no good reason why it shouldn't be so.

Dissolution of Partnership.
The firm of Estill & Horseman, Millinery and Dressmaking, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
Miss Annie E. Horseman will continue the business of Dressmaking at her home, and Mrs. Estill will take exclusive charge of the Millinery Department at the old stand.
All those knowing themselves indebted to the firm of Estill & Horseman will please call and settle.
Be respectfully,
ESTILL & HORSEMAN,
Owingsville, Ky.
July 16th, 1892.

FIFTH ANNUAL HOP OF THE OWINGSVILLE BALL CLUB.

The young men of the Owingsville Ball Club are to be congratulated upon the brilliant success of their fifth annual hop, at the Court House on last Friday evening, July 29th. From inception to finish the affair was admirably managed, and every provision made to furnish an enjoyable evening. Saxton's band, eight performers, of Lexington, was engaged for the occasion, and it went without saying that the music was superb.

The musicians were a little late in arriving, and the dancing didn't begin until about 11 o'clock. The main room of the Court House had been prepared for the dancing by removing the benches and tables.
The young ladies were dressed in beauty in their handsome ball-room costumes, and each gallant young gentleman could doubtless describe his partner as a "radiant maiden." The young men were in full evening dress, and it was a subject of remark that they made a splendid appearance.

The severe heat was somewhat tempered before the dancing began by cooling showers and by the breezes that sprang up.

An Orlook representative was favored by the management with a ticket of admission, and when he entered the brightly lighted ballroom and cast his eyes around upon the assembly of female loveliness, he felt that it was good to be there. Gradually the music and the subtle odor of the flowers and perfumes stealing over his senses inspired him with the outraged idea that if he had a good level coot-let all to himself out in the suburbs, with only the man in the moon to witness, he wouldn't mind gliding around awhile to the strains of a waltz himself.

It was intoxicating, bewitching, and enough to supply the joints of an octogenarian, and make him think that nature had granted him a dispensation, and again endowed him with the grace and agility of youth. But there is one thing certain—had the reporter been asked to essay the role of a modern Paris (a sort of Plaster of Paris), he would have brought no woe upon Troy (N. Y.) by awarding the golden apple, inscribed, "To the fairest," to any one of the many fair ones present. In justice to them he couldn't have done it. Eris might have nursed her wrath for some other occasion, unless she was willing to chance it upon emptying a market-basketful of the golden fruit from the orchards of the Hesperides, each bearing the legend, "To the fairest." Then the reporter would have presented each of the fairest with an apple, and claimed his Helen. Otherwise, had he presented only a single apple, he would have received and deserved Helen Blazes from the heart-smitten gallants present.

After a grand march the hall was opened with the "lancers." Then waltzes, polkas, and schottisches followed each other until about half past 1 o'clock an elegant lunch was served by Mrs. W. P. Conner, Jr., at the Seminary. After refreshments, dancing was resumed, lasting until half past five in the morning.

ted.

Alonso Brookshire, the desper-ado who killed Jailer Tipton and Thomas Howard and wounded George Rayborn, was captured last Friday in Madison county, on Joe Heathman's farm, near Valley View. Sheriff Joe Bales first discovered him in a thicket of underbrush in an orchard. Brookshire had the Sheriff covered with a couple of revolvers. The latter pretended not to see him, and rode away some distance, jumped from his horse and covered Brookshire with a double-barrel shotgun.
Brookshire gave up and was hurried to the Richmond jail for protection from the mob. He admits that he is the man who did the killing, but claims that he thought they were a lot of drunken candids. Gov. Brown ordered the prisoner kept at Richmond until the Menefee authorities call for him. On Saturday the Sheriff and several deputies started with him toward Lexington, aiming to smuggle him into Frenchburg. He is now in the Lexington jail, and will probably be kept there until the excitement dies down somewhat.

Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps, and found it in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst case I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant tasting, and 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by C. W. Honaker, Jr., & Co.

Industrious Correspondents.

COGSWELL.

Elder J. M. Adams preached last Sunday to a large concourse of people at Licking Union.

Some of the boys from around here assembled together at Altrey's store, last Saturday, and took a shade too much "Stomach Bitters"—which resulted in a general row. Peach cans, bread-cakes, scrap paper and cigar boxes were hurled randomly—nobody seriously hurt.

The scripture says in substance:
"Woe unto the man that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips to make drunk." The scriptures, in this case, don't mention "Stomach Bitters," consequently the boys may escape the punishment.

An infant child of James Armstrong is very ill.

Crops in this section are needing rain badly.
